Re: Replacement Surety Bond, Great Salt Lake Minerals Corporation ("GSLM"), Little Mountain Permit, M/057/002, Weber County, Utah

Dear Mr. Reynolds:

Thank you for returning the completed Reclamation Contract for the Little Mountain Plant, which was received on April 30, 1997. Upon review of the contract we noted that the legal description for the disturbed lands ("Attachment A") references three drawings titled "Exhibit A-1, A-2, and A-3" (DWG. #800-11-05-020, DWG. #800-110-05-019, and DWG. #101-01-05-006 respectively), received September 16, 1991. These drawings show GSLM's owned and leased properties showing gravel pit reclamation areas, the plot plan for restoring to original condition, the west lake production pond, and evaporation pond dike construction details. It appears that these drawings were last updated in 1990.

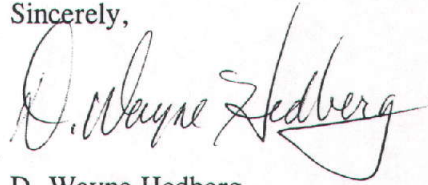

Because the maps do not clearly identify the approximate 162.6 acres of surface disturbance subject to reclamation under the new Letter of Credit, we request updated versions of these drawings and an accurate legal description of the disturbed areas bonded for reclamation. We will need to have this information before we can seek the appropriate signatures from the Division Director and Board Chairman on the Reclamation Contract form. We have enclosed a clean copy of page #8 of 8 (Attachment "A") to assist you in updating the Reclamation Contract form.

The $298,900.00 replacement surety (Letter of Credit No. _____), issued by the Bank of Boston is now in effect. We are enclosing the existing reclamation surety (Letter of Credit # _____) issued by First Security Bank and the existing Reclamation Contract effective date January 30, 1995, for your disposal.

We will send you executed copies of the new Reclamation Contract and the replacement reclamation surety after we receive the updated legal description information. Thank you for your help in finalizing the replacement of this surety. If you have any questions regarding this letter please contact me at (801) 538-5286 or Tony Gallegos at (801) 538-5267.

Sincerely,
